

RESEARCHER, PITCH YOUR RESEARCH AND WIN 30 000 € - NEUROPITCH CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Research based pitching competition for neuroresearchers focusing on aging – organized by Neurocenter Finland and sponsored by OLVI foundation 65 years.

Do you have unique research proposal or ongoing research project focusing on the challenges of aging in brain health or brain disease. Put your skills to the test and compete with researchers across the country in the pitching competition at Neuro2020 event. The winner receives 30 000 euros to advance the proposed research.

The goal of the competition is to support research in the areas of brain health, disease prevention, mechanisms of the diseases, treatment and rehabilitation in the field of neuroresearch of aging. NeuroPitch is looking for research ideas with high scientific quality and impact, societal relevance, novelty and the quality of the pitch! Naturally, a good research can become great when you communicate it with clarity.

NeuroPitch is open for researchers from Finnish universities and social- and health care providers as well as research organizations. Applicant can be a PhD Student, a PostDoctoral Researcher or a Docent. NeuroPitch is not meant for development projects or for testing existing product.

The application period for NeuroPitch begins 13th of January 2020 at 12:00 and ends on 7th of February 2020 at 12:00 PM.

Eight finalists will be pre-selected by a Neurocenter Finland Jury based on the applications. Neurocenter Finland will inform the finalists on the 6th of March. The final takes place on March 31 at Neuro2020 event in Scandic Kuopio. The language of the competition is English and pitching time will be 3 minutes. Only one of the project's representatives will appear on the stage. All the researchers who make it to the finals will receive the communication training from Ski Academy organized by Kuopio Region Chamber of Commerce, which will prepare them for the pitch part of the competition. The training is held in Kuopio (or by joining the online webinar) on the 18th of March.

Winner takes it all! However, even if your pitch doesn't win, you have a chance to get valuable feedback from the Jury. Teams will also have an opportunity to form new partnerships during the Neuro2020 event.

The competition is organized by Neurocenter Finland and sponsored by OLVI Foundation.
